Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10. — Mrs. Grace Wood, 39, comely, socially prominent matron, wealthy in her own right and a university of Michigan graduate, was held in police headquarters here today for questioning in a plot to murder her young husband, Ralph A. Wood, after the plot had been foiled by a spectacular gun battle in the dark in which one of the conspirators, a hired gunman, was killed by Wood and a deputy sheriff wounded by one of the gunmen.

The dead gunman is Ambrose Haggerty, 25, of Detroit.

Police knew in advance an attempt was to be made on the life of Wood, who at 33 had amassed a fortune estimated at more than a million dollars in real estate operations at Wyandotte, fashionable Detroit suburb, where Wood's office, scene of the battle, is located. Wood, too, had been "tipped off."

The scene resembled a movie "lot," although the conspirators were unaware their coming was awaited. Deputy sheriffs, reporters and newspaper cameramen, lay concealed in Wood's office and the spacious grounds surrounding it.

Betrays Plot
Cecil Holt, 25-year-old accountant, one of the plotters, betrayed the conspiracy at his young wife's earnest plea. He agreed with authorities, however, to carry out his part that the real conspirators might be captured.

Five persons were in the conspiracy, according to Assistant Prosecutor Paul O. Buckley. One is dead, Mrs. Wood refuses to talk and two others, under arrest, have confessed. Holt, who expected the plot, is not held.

Buckley in his recommendation of a warrant said the motive was to collect a $100,000 life insurance policy on which Mrs. Wood had recently paid a month's premium and to inherit Wood's real estate holdings, running into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Wood had sued for divorce December 14, after giving Mrs. Wood $30,000 in cash and two houses.

The murder attempt took place at 10 o'clock last night. An hour before that time police, newspapermen and cameramen, their eyes and

Boy On Trial

Courthouse, York, Pa., Jan. 10.—With his mother sitting beside him in the prisoner's dock, crying softly, John Curry, 14, was placed on trial today charged with the murder of Nelson D. Rehmyer, aged farmer, reclusive, Young Curry, Wilbert G. Hess and John Blymer, a "porky" doctor, bluegeared Rehmyer, whom they believed to be a witch, to death on the night of Nov. 27, last.

Blymer, the first of the trio to be tried, was sentenced last night by a jury which found him guilty, to life imprisonment.

Curry and Hess were brought into court this morning. Immediately Curry's attorney demanded a separate trial for the boy. This was granted automatically.

Selection of the jury was begun at once.

The boy, an apple-cheeked, black haired Curry, smiled jauntily as he gazed around the crowded courtroom. He paid little attention to his mother, Mrs. Anna Curry McLane, who sat just back of him, a handkerchief to her eyes.

Hess, who is 18, a skinny, gaudy blonde youth, seemed frightened as he sat in court, shackled to a deputy sheriff. He had none of the after-Curry trial got under way.

Hess was taken to the York county jail, where Blymer is confined in a cell awaiting the day when he will begin serving his life term in the Eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia.

Judge Ray P. Sherwood speeded up selection of the jury by eliminating conscientious objectors to capital punishment in a body. Eight jurors were selected within 20 minutes.

Relates How Wife Tried
To End Life of Husband

Detroit, Jan. 10.—Following are the confessions, as given to police, of Mrs. Grace Wood's alleged plot to kill her husband, Ralph Wood, 33, millionaire real estate operator.

(By CECIL HOLT WHO REVEALED PLOT)

"I've known the Woods about three months but never knew anything about their domestic troubles. I bought my home from Wood, which I am paying for on a contract. My home was deeded to Mrs. Wood when the Woods separated.

"On November 10, while walking on the Eureka road a little ways from the Wood office, I was hit by something and knocked out."

Wood informed police that Holt had been hit by an auto and that a report of the accident, made by the driver of the car which hit Holt, is on record with the Wyandotte police.

Sends Flowers
"I revived later in the Wyandotte hospital and there was a big bunch of flowers by my bed. They had been sent to me by Mrs. Wood. While there, although I had never known her very much before, Mrs. Wood visited me three times. Twice I failed to recognize her due to my condition, but once I knew her. Later after I left the hospital, December 11, she visited me several times."

"After I was discharged from the hospital, she told me when visiting my home that my injuries were caused by a blackjack and that her husband Ralph had either hit me himself or had me hit."

"At that time she hinted that something should be done to take care of Ralph. A week before Christmas I met her in her office one night. She introduced me to Ambrose Haggerty and William Thompson and said to them: 'This guy is all right. You can talk in front of him.' Then the three of them opened up and told me the scheme."

Would Get Deed
"I was to get deed to my home, worth $15,000 and title to another home. The plan was to kill both."

Redeemed During
12-Month Period

A total of $74,254.25 in bonded indebtedness was redeemed by the city in 1928. City Auditor Helen Woerther stated today in her annual report. Interest paid on bonds during the last 12 months amounted to $36,821.01, making the total expenditures of the city in payment of indebtedness through issuance of bonds $111,075.26.

The balance of bonded indebtedness still outstanding in the city is $952,746.33. Miss Woerther reports. This amount is increased slightly over the annual report of 1927 due to extensive civic improvements of the city during the past year.

A balance of $103,786.91 is still outstanding in the city's share of assessment notes for property owners' part in payment of improvements. Included in this is $150,000 issued for the new sewage treatment plant. In the city's share of improvement notes there is a balance of $166,391 outstanding. General city bonds amount to $443,439.72; special assessment bonds total balance outstanding is $131,628.70, and waterworks bonds total $107,500.

Canton, Jan. 10.—Still somewhat dazed by the sensational events that he has figured in during the last 48 hours, "Eddie" Kaitenbaugh, 21, confessed slayer of Mr. and Mrs. John Oser, was held in the county jail here today, awaiting grand jury action.

"Eddie" is confident that he'll go to the electric chair. He grins as he relates how he shot Oser, with Oser's own rifle, last Saturday night. Oser had hired Kaitenbaugh as a farmhand to work on the Oser dairy farm near Canal Fulton. Kaitenbaugh, whose home is in Grove City, Pa., had been wandering about in eastern Ohio and Pennsylvania, he relates, seeking employment.

His desire to use their automobile to impress his girl, in New Castle, Pa., led him to kill Mr. and Mrs. Oser, the youth says. After shooting Oser, he also shot Mrs. Oser, dragged her body from the house, beat her head with rocks and left it near the garage, according to Kaitenbaugh's signed statement.

The case will probably be presented to the grand jury, which is now in session here, the first of next week. The court battle will be fought out, almost certainly, on the issue of Kaitenbaugh's sanity, according to Prosecutor Harter.

Feels Bad

"I feel awfully bad about it," Kaitenbaugh sits in his cell, grinning. "I suppose I'll get the electric chair. I wanted an automobile and it came over me all of a sudden, that that was the way to get it. The little boy was asleep, so I didn't do anything to him. I don't know what I'd have done if he had been awake."

Still the maddening, morose smile.

Mr. and Mrs. Oser were good to him Kaitenbaugh says. He was treated as one of the family by the young couple and ate at the table with them every meal.

She Saints James and Philip Catholic church at Canal Fulton was filled to capacity yesterday when funeral services were held for Oser and his beautiful young wife.

Among those in attendance was little Harold Oser, 7, son of the murdered couple, who rode a half-mile on his pony last Sunday morning to inform a neighbor that "dad's asleep in the milk shed and I can't wake him up."

The Oser's other son, Carl, 11 months old, is cared for by relatives at the Oser home. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Oser were placed in a vault at Calvary cemetery, Canal Fulton. Later, when a new mausoleum is completed, they are to be removed.

Capital Astir Over Hoover
Attitude In Selection of Cabinet Members; President-Elect Proves A Listener

As a listener and as one who can keep his own counsel, Mr. Hoover is proving daily that he hasn't been sitting at the foot of Mr. Coolidge's cabinet table for five years for nothing.

Many Rumors
The reticence of the president-elect concerning his cabinet appointments has given rise to many rumors, and it is giving a good deal of left-handed courage to those who are backing various candidates for jobs. They apparently feel that so long as there is reticence there is hope.

There are rumors that Mr. Hoover already has made up his mind concerning his official family and that he is merely going through the ceremony of listening to this endless stream of recommendations merely out of politeness and a sense of political duty. There are other rumors that he will announce his entire cabinet before leaving for Florida next week; there are still others that he won't even begin the actual consideration of a slate until he is safely away from the pulling and hauling of capital politicians.

South Aggressive
The south, militantly aggressive in its new-found Republicanism, is conducting an energetic drive for cabinet representation. Kentucky Republicans are working in daily representation the name of Mrs. Alvin T. Hart, vice chairman of the national committee, who had titular charge of the feminine end of the Hoover campaign. Virginia Republicans have advanced the name of C. Bascom Sloop, former secretary to President Coolidge, and credited with being the "master mind" of the Hoover campaign in the south.

There are few in Washington who seriously believe that Mrs. Hart stands any chance of a cabinet appointment, despite the great drive in her behalf, or that, in fact, there will be any woman in the cabinet. Mrs. Hart may be given an appointment in the Hoover administration, if she wants it, but the betting is that it will not be of cabinet rank.

Sloop would like to be in the cabinet. His resignation as secretary to President Coolidge after the 1924 campaign was attributed to his unwillingness to continue in the administration without promotion in recognition of his services in 1924.

North Carolina, which also went Republican has a candidate for whom really sincere and high hopes are held. He is Stuart W. Cramer, a cotton manufacturer of Cramerton, N. C., independently wealthy, possessed of a distinguished business and administrative record, and an important cog in the machinery of the Hoover victory in the old north state.

NO FAULT OF STARK COUNTY

Unfortunately for Stark county there have been a number of crimes within its borders in recent weeks which have attracted considerable attention in other cities. As a result of widespread newspaper publicity, some people have gained the impression that Stark county is a hotbed of crime—a place where murderers and such run at large, ready to kill without warning.

Such a picture, of course, is erroneous. The type of crime recently committed in Stark county has been so filled with mystery that the public demanded every possible detail. And because of this the newspapers devoted many columns of space to the affairs. It does not necessarily follow that Stark county is a rendezvous for murderers. On the contrary Stark county probably is as law abiding a community as one will find anywhere.

The latest tragedy to confront the authorities of the county horrifies by its brutality, but it is a crime which originated spontaneously, and which was not the work of any man known to the authorities as having a record. For this reason it is unjust to the authorities to refer to Stark county as the habitat of characters from the half-world.

It is to be hoped, of course, that the murderer of John A. Oser, Jr., and his wife, now apprehended, will be dealt with speedily. The same desire was expressed at the time Verard Fearn was slain at his home. That crime solved itself, with the suicide of a woman who is said to have confessed her affair to her husband. The husband is in jail awaiting trial for possible complicity in the woman's death.

While it is unfortunate that murders of this character occur, it is well to remember that they will occur constantly. If not here, then elsewhere. And it is well to remember that Cleveland, Chicago, Toledo, New York, Columbus and scores of other cities have had similar cycles of murders, most of which have been cleared up by the hard working officials, and without permanently staining the communities where they happened.

TEX RICKARD

It was characteristic of George (Tex) Rickard that he should die fighting gamely.

All of his life Tex Rickard has been a fighter. Not the rough and tumble sort that mixes in brawls, but the type that meets obstacles face to face and battles grimly to overcome them. That he was successful is attested by the phenomenal career he carved for himself in the sporting world.

Tex Rickard saw life in the Yukon. He was at Goldfield when the Nevada mines were the center of feverish gold activity. He was in the Panhandle of Texas and Oklahoma when oil was spreading itself over the landscape and fortunes were being made. And from these hectic endeavors he went to New York and became the world's greatest fight promoter.

Behind a gambling table where he was banking faro or roulette or stud poker, musing through the snow of Alaska with thousands of others searching for gold; in the oil fields where the well might be a gusher, or a dry hole, or promoting a championship boxing exhibition where he stood to make a fortune, or lose one, it was all the same to Tex Rickard. His was the impulsive face, the unfrustrated temperament, the stolid determination. And when Rickard faced the Great Referee finally, he was counted out still fighting, still determined to wrest victory from evident defeat.

The man was a genius in many respects, yet he was not brilliant, like many other men. But he was shrewd, calculating, able to weigh this against that and strike an uncanon balance. He knew the public, and he had the confidence of the public. He was a square shooter, in the parlance of the sporting world, and when he said a thing the public accepted it as a fact. Tex

Rickard did not cross up his friends. He will be missed—but it is possible his life may be a guide to others who start with no more than he had.

PUBLIC EDUCATED

Figures tabulated by Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner of New York City, show that there were 1,565 deaths in the metropolis during the year just passed due, directly or indirectly, to liquor, an increase of 256 liquor fatalities over the record of the year preceding it. Of the 1,565 deaths tabulated, but 130 were set down as deaths from alcoholism, the remaining deaths of the awful total being recorded as homicides, deaths in motor accidents and deaths due to falls, all of them traceable to liquor.

The doctor explains that the probable reason that more deaths from alcoholic poisoning were not reported is that the speakeasies and the bootleggers are supplying a better quality of liquor than formerly; that there is far more doctored ship liquor and far less liquor of the absolutely poisonous kinds made from industrial liquor and wood alcohol. But even though the stuff sold is made from ship liquor, it is awful stuff, being liquor cut down three times, many foreign ingredients being used to cover up the three parts of water it contains.

It was owing to this fact, the doctor explains, that there were so few deaths in New York and so comparatively few cases taken to hospitals as the result of the celebration of the coming of the new year. But while the liquor now being sold does not so often kill outright as did that purveyed a year or two ago, its effects on the mentalities of the drinkers are no less pronounced. It is fully as effective in leading to folly and crime as the earlier brands dispensed by the bootleggers. As the doctor puts it: "It isn't the liquor that carries them off; it's the foolish things the drinkers do after they carry off the liquor."

The warning of Dr. Norris is that such a thing as pure liquor is practically unknown in New York. Even that secured on the prescriptions of doctors often contains foreign ingredients. The "pure liquor right off the boat" is not pure when it reaches the customer, and the people of New York capable of thinking are coming to a realization of that fact.

As Prohibition Commissioner Doran put it in commenting on the improved holiday conditions in New York in regard to the liquor evil, "the public is becoming educated." This, and the improved formula used by the prohibition department to make alcohol unfit for beverage purposes, have brought about the falling-off in deaths directly due to liquor.

What Others Say

A movement is on foot to induce Mr. Hoover to appoint at least one woman to his cabinet. Various names have been mentioned, as possibilities, but who she is or what her qualifications are does not seem to be of so much importance as the fact that she is not a man. The aim is to create a precedent, whether the appointee has the necessary qualifications for the office or not.

A premature demand by women for sex representation in office would seriously damage their future prospects. The vast majority of women are this, and seeing if they have not encouraged a woman's party in national politics, as distinguished from man's parties. A small and articulate minority persists in its efforts to divide the electorate into two camps, accordingly as the electors wear skirts or trousers.

The same fatal misconception of the status of women in politics prompts the demand for a woman in the cabinet, whether or not she has the training and experience necessary to make her an efficient adviser to the president on national and international affairs. These who are working to that end have learned nothing from the mistake made in granting the franchise to a generation of emancipated slaves wholly unprepared to exercise it intelligently. The burden of that mistake fell most heavily upon the colored people themselves. A similar result must be expected from forcing women into office before they are prepared to give a good account of themselves therein.

"I did not run as a woman," says Congresswoman Ruth Hanna McCormick, "but as a candidate with qualifications for office." That should be the test for all political office appointees as well as elective women. Women played an important part in the recent elections, but they did it as citizens and not as women. There are possibly women in this country with the necessary qualifications for a cabinet office. They should not be overlooked because they are women; but neither should they be given special consideration on that account. As far as women who have been voting only eight years, show that they are qualified for the honors to which they aspire their abilities should be given recognition—and not before.—Detroit Free Press.

immoral motorists, fleeing bandits, reckless drivers and other aggressively undesirable drivers who sometimes escape the prompt attention they ought to have from the representatives of law and order.

The present prohibition situation provides an argument on the other side. Since the inauguration of Volsteadism state police forces elsewhere are reliably said to have degenerated miserably. The opportunities for graft are such that many troopers, doing hard and not infrequently dangerous work for relatively small pay, are said to have succumbed to the temptation just as city policemen, prohibition agents themselves and other public officials often do.

It is a gloomy way of viewing the question but none the less there is a great deal of reason to fear that to establish a state police force would result in the extension of the system of official graft which now disgraces the country. In our own state we have the now happily discontinued rural liquor courts, with their marshals and constables, to judge by. The aim of many of these officials seemed to be not to enforce the law, but to make money for themselves out of it, and one evil leading to another, they took advantage of other laws than the liquor laws, notably the traffic laws, to ply their nefarious trade. This unpleasant consideration of the possibility of the extension of the system of official graft should be given careful attention by the legislators when they take up the question of the establishment of a state police force.—Ohio State Journal.

THE PROPER DIET FOR INTESTINAL TROUBLES

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

One of the most obstinate troubles coming to the attention of the physician is the disease commonly known as mucous colitis. I was amazed the other day in reading an article written by a physician in which he expressed the hope that the young doctor would not have a case of mucous colitis the first week of his experience in practice. The writer says that the disease is so difficult to treat that the young doctor would be utterly discouraged.

In this all ment there is a pain in the bowels and this may be simply a feeling of discomfort or there may be severe cutting or gripping pains. There is a tenderness over the abdomen, sickness at the stomach and almost constant discomfort. The disease is really an inflammation of the lining membrane of the lower part of the bowel. Thick patches form. This membrane in appearance is not unlike the membrane that covers the tonsils in a case of diphtheria.

Of course, we very frequently meet cases of acute inflammation in the intestinal tract. The most common one is known as catarrhal colitis. It is very much the same as catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membranes anywhere else in the body. By this I mean that the tissues involved give the usual signs of catarrhal inflammation.

In mucous colitis, however, we have very much more, marked changes in the tissues, and the symptoms are more pronounced. It is an obstinate ailment and is I have suggested is equally trying to physician and patient. In any disturbance of the intestinal tract the symptoms are distressing. In mucous colitis, however, we have more than the local symptoms. We are very likely to have more or less disturbance of the nervous system.

It is difficult to think clearly. Severe headaches are common. Neuritis is not infrequently present.

not good things to give because they contain so much indigestible material. If they are cooked thoroughly and then strained, so as to remove all irritating material, they may be safely taken.

In a trouble so obstinate as this, it is needless to say the patient should be under the care of the family doctor. He will recommend the remedies.

"KONJOLA MADE NEW MAN OF ME" FARMER DECLARES

Veteran Resident of Green County Was Unable to Work—Relieved Of Rheumatism

MR. GEORGE SIMS

Day by day the records of the glorious achievements of Konjola, the new medicine, grow; a convincing case of Mr. George Sims, R. R. 2, Xenia, Ohio, who said:

"Three years ago my stomach failed me completely. There was little that I could eat, and even that little caused indigestion. My kidneys and liver refused to function as they should. Poisons left in my system caused rheumatism, and finally I had to quit work.

"A friend who came to call on me, urged me to try Konjola. I thought it was just another medicine, but he was so eager that I tried his new compound that I decided to take his advice. Three weeks of Konjola made a new man of me. Today I can eat anything; all my rheumatic pains have vanished, and my kidneys and bowels are entirely normal. I am doing right now as much a day on the farm as I ever did. I tell everyone what this wonderful medicine did for me as I feel it my duty to let them know of the merits of Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Salem, O., at J. H. Lease drug stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Griswold will succeed Welfare Director John Harper, Jackson, Democrat, who held this office during the past six years. Griswold's appointment will become effective shortly after Cooper is inaugurated next Monday. Griswold is a Republican.

Cooper is expected to announce his selection of a state health director late today or tomorrow. It was understood that either Dr. Charles A. Neil, Cincinnati, Dr. H. H. Shively, Columbus, who formerly held this office, or Dr. C. F. Talley, Powell, Delaware county, a former member of the Ohio house of representatives, will be chosen for this position.

Former Speaker

Griswold is a former speaker of the Ohio house of representatives, while representing Geauga county. Later, he was a special counsel in the attorney general's office and became first assistant attorney general. He was an unsuccessful candidate for attorney general in 1926. For a number of years he has been practicing law at Cleveland, being associated with the law firm of Bartholomew, Leeper & McGill besides maintaining his own office.

In recognition of the support given him during the recent campaign by the women of Ohio, Cooper, it was indicated today, expects to announce within a few days the selection of a number of women for "outstanding positions" in the state governmental machinery. Cooper may announce the selection of an assistant state welfare director, as well as an auditor and purchasing agent in the state highway department today or tomorrow.

Air Express Formed By Dayton Concern

Dayton, Jan. 10.—Sale of the Continental Airlines, Inc., operating the Cleveland-Dayton-Louisville air line, to the Universal Aviation corporation, was announced here today by E. L. Schuren, general manager of the purchasing company.

The air line will be extended from Louisville to Nashville, Memphis, Dallas and El Paso, the announcement added. Postal officials expressed surprise at the sale, but admitted the proposed extension had been contemplated for some time.

Another aviation announcement of interest also was made today. The chamber of commerce told of the inauguration of airway express beginning Jan. 15 by the American Railway Express company in conjunction with the Universal corporation. Packages leaving Dayton as late as 9:30 p. m., will be in New York at 7:30 the following morning. The express route will be via Cleveland.

Sullivan and Wood. Later we decided only on Wood.

"This thing preyed on my mind and I told my wife. She told me to go to the police. Instead I went and told Earl, bookkeeper for Wood, and he told Wood and Sullivan.

"Sullivan went to Roy Smith, Riverview police chief, and we framed it so the police would be there when these men came.

"Mrs. Wood's plan was that I was to drive Haggerty and Thompson to Wood's office. I was to go in and speak to him, come out and tell them if any one else was there. Wood was to be blackjacked, thrown into his own car.

"We were then going to wreck the car and plant some dope on him. Wednesday of this week I met Haggerty and Mrs. Wood and had lunch with them in a restaurant. The plans were gone over while we ate.

"At 5:30 after work, I went to Mrs. Wood's office. She had been drinking. Haggerty was there at the same time. We ate again and went out and had some drinks. Then we went and rented a car while Mrs. Wood sat on a bench.

"About 8 o'clock we set out for Thompson's home. When we got there Haggerty went in to get Thompson.

"Then a man named Taylor Pierce, dressed in a special police uniform, came to the car. He said: 'Hey, what's this all about?' Mrs. Wood said: 'You'd better get in on this and come along with us.' Apparently Mrs. Wood knew him but I didn't.

"Pierce went back to the house and came back in a few minutes in civilian clothes. He got into the car and we all started for Wyandotte.

"On the way I was scared to death, thinking of my wife and baby. I was particularly nervous because of this third party. Before we got to Wyandotte, Mrs. Wood was so drunk that, although she first said she wanted to come with us, we had to take her home.

"She left us, saying: 'Remember, tonight I am staying with my mother.' We got to Wyandotte and drove to the office. I went in and spoke to Wood. I told him we were all going back down to Wyandotte for a little while to get a few drinks because I needed them myself to steel my nerves.

"When I came back again I was to go to one side of the door. I told Wood all this.

"Then we went back to get some more drinks. Then we came back and Haggerty and I went to the door.

Shoes Fit Better Minus a Toe

London, Jan. 10.—Startling disclosures that many English society women are going about minus their toes in order to wear fashionable shoes have been made here by Dr. A. E. Kennard, and aroused much comment today. R Kennard is one of the foremost bone specialists in London.

In an interview, the specialist revealed that scores of smart women having their little or third toe amputated so that their feet will fit into small, smart-toe shoes.

But this is only the lesser evil of the "graze for 'chic' foot" according to Dr. Kennard. He asserts that high heels will result in a general condition of crippled women.

"The foot is rapidly becoming the ugliest part of the modern woman," said the doctor. "The belief that the flat footed woman has passed is a delusion. The high heel is merely a splint for the foot, giving it a deceptive appearance of shapeliness and prettiness."

Radio Adopted As Aid To Police of British Columbia

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 10.—Escaping criminals will be pursued through the ether by British Columbia police within a short time.

Following recent experiments by Constable C. Ledoux, plans are being perfected to equip all provincial police cars, coast patrol boats and even individual officers with portable radio telephones, capable of sending and receiving messages.

A transmitting station, which will be broadcasting headquarters for the province, is being established in the Vancouver court house.

The experiments made by Ledoux demonstrated in a convincing manner the practicability of conducting conversations by wireless telephone from moving automobiles.

He is now working on a pocket size radio set, suitable for officers tramping beats in isolated sections of British Columbia or in the busy environs of a city.

The Dominion government has assigned call letters, V9EAX, to the provincial station. The transmitters will work on wave lengths lower than broadcasting stations and higher than amateur senders.

In the event of a crime, where time is important in cutting off the escape of the perpetrator, headquarters will be able to establish instant communication with all motor boats, cars, and officers equipped with receiving sets. These, in turn, by their portable transmission apparatus, will keep headquarters informed of their movements.

KELLOGG PACT BEING PUSHED

Administration Favors Farm Relief In This Session

Washington, Jan. 10.—Fearful that prolonged debate upon the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty may disrupt administration plans for avoiding a special session this spring, Republican leaders today called the senate into session an hour earlier than usual.

Administration spokesmen were hopeful of securing a final vote on ratification of the treaty by Saturday but the irreconcilable group plainly indicated they were ready to debate it for many days to come unless a compromise agreement is reached. The irreconcilables were holding out for some arrangement by which the United States can inform the world of the terms under which it ratifies the treaty.

The necessity for speed in disposing of the treaty became apparent when it was rumored the Coolidge administration intends to press enactment of farm relief legislation before March 4. If the new McNary-Haugen bill should be enacted, it was said there would be no need for a session of congress until next September and the newly installed president can have six months in which to arrange his administration before facing congressional hurdles.

GUN BATTLE

lenses trained on the Wood office, across the street, secreted themselves in the home of George Wallman, grimly awaiting the appearance of the conspirators.

Gunsman Arrive

Without the least suspicion being aroused the first part of the plan was carried out. Holt visited Wood and told him of a visit to be paid him within a few moments. From that time on members of the conspiracy sat primed to the highest key of excitement.

The whir of an automobile motor was heard. Scarcely a moment later the conspirators' auto drove in sight. From his perch in Wood's office, Herman L. Sullivan, partner of the intended victim, saw Holt and Haggerty come onto the steps of the office.

Sullivan pulled a clothesline rope that extended from his hide-away to where Wood sat. Wood silently arose, turned out the office light and stepped out onto the porch.

Haggerty raised his arm to strike. Wood whipped out an automatic and fired. He emptied his gun at Haggerty. Simultaneously Sullivan, gun in hand, ran from his hiding place, shooting as he came.

Panic stricken, Taylor Pierce and William Thompson, other members of the murder band who had remained in the car, started the motor for a getaway.

They ran a gauntlet of deadly gunfire for 150 yards unscathed, coolly returning the fire. They succeeded in hitting Deputy Thomas Dunnigan who raced alongside their speeding car. Thompson and Pierce were captured two hours later.

Detectives found Mrs. Wood in her home here. She was partly clothed and in bed, they said, protesting she was suffering from influenza.

Assistant Prosecutor Buckley ordered her arrested and taken to police headquarters. When she arose, she staggered about the room. Buckley said, Holt had informed authorities they would find her at her home drunk. According to Holt, Mrs. Wood had intended to accompany the gunmen but had drunk so much they had to take her home.

Wood met his wife in the homicide squad room at police headquarters.

"Hello Grace," he said, according to witnesses. "It's sort of awkward, isn't it? I don't know what to say Grace, but I can't feel sorry I killed that fellow when I think what he intended to do to me."

Car Men Unwilling Guests On Ride

Columbus, Jan. 10.—Two street car conductors and a motorman today were excitedly relating to friends how last night they were kidnapped by two drunks, "taken for a ride" and robbed of $25. According to the car crew, the two inebriates accosted them as they reached the end of their north side route, forced them into a small sedan, chauffeured them about the city for 15 minutes, robbed them of the sum of money and then evicted them from the car. The men were armed, the crew said.

At one time during the ride, one of the thugs is reported to have said, "I voted for Al Smith and he lost. Now I won't work for five years."

The crew consisted of Conductors Alick Bower and Roy Manning and Motorman H. B. Dierdorff.

The men talked freely during the ride, the crew reported, and at frequent intervals, "tapped" a liquor bottle.

Berlin Broadcasts Wireless Pictures On Daily Schedule

Berlin, Jan. 10.—With the successful broadcasting of President von Hindenburg's latest picture, Germany inaugurated a regular wireless picture broadcasting service.

This service, however, is still in an experimental stage because the radio companies have not yet had much experience with this youngest branch of modern radio science. The pictures are broadcast to all participants, from the powerful station of Koenigswusterhausen near Berlin on a wave length of 1640 meters.

To inaugurate the service, the Government Radio company supplied about 50 picture receiving sets to interested firms and private individuals in practically all parts of the country. These were requested to send in the pictures received together with detailed reports about their impressions and experiences with these apparatus.

Goitre not a Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

Milwaukee, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research, that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. B-32, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Political Jobs To Cause New Rumpus In Illinois Battle

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—A fight is brewing in Illinois which is expected to bounce into and reverberate through the senatorial halls at Washington. The opening blow in the melee probably will be struck if predictions of dopers are correct, in advance of the primaries a year from next April.

Mrs. Ruth Hann McCornick, who has shouldered her way into the halls of congress and gained a seat, is believed to cherish senatorial aspirations and to have her eye on the position now held by U. S. Senator Charles S. Deneen. Deneen recently has swept to several victories in Cook county and is a friend of Gov-elect Louis L. Emmerson.

Whether Gov. Emmerson will line up with Mrs. McCornick or Senator Deneen or remain neutral but lineups which form when the general assembly convenes in January are expected to be an indication of his attitude.

If Gov. Emmerson lines up against Deneen it is expected that he will join Senator O. F. Glenn, in throwing patronage to Mrs. McCornick.

Applications continue to pour in for state jobs under the incoming administration, to assume the reins of state government in January. Emmerson to date has given no indication as to the makeup of his list. No announcement may precede presentation of this list to the state senate for its approval.

Government Warns Against More Flu

Washington, Jan. 10.—A warning that the present epidemic of influenza may be followed by a more severe type with a higher mortality rate was given by the public today at the National Influenza conference in a statement by Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming.

It was ironic that on the day of the conference the surgeon-general—the highest government medical officer—was taken ill of influenza and confined to his bed. Cumming caught cold while in Chicago some time ago and last night was forced to bed with a high temperature.

Would Drift With Ice Pack Over Top of World

Captain Bob Bartlett, Arctic explorer, looking over model of "saucer shaped" craft in which he would drift for four years in the ice pack.

New York, Jan. 10.—"A man would have to know his ice," said Captain Bob Bartlett.

The commander of the ship which carried Peary on his dash to the pole was outlining to reporters a long-cherished plan for the most valuable piece of exploration that remains to be done in this rather well-discovered world. His tanned, lined face lighted up, his stubby sailor's fingers were eloquent in illustration of his plan.

"Saucer-shaped Ship Needed. "Get a ship shaped like a saucer especially built for the task, power her with Diesel engines," he said, "then take her up to the polar basin and just before reaching there, let off most of the crew at some point like Nome."

"Keep about eight men—youthful, tenderfoot, enthusiastic as all get out. Get the vessel into the ice which is floating around the pole and let her freeze in. Then stay there, drifting with the ice, for three or four years."

The drift would take the boat

Houdini "Spirit Message" Fails To Gain $31,000 Prize

New York, Jan. 10.—Mediums, spiritualists, and explorers of "the great unknown" today can still contend for $31,000 in awards for producing spiritualistic manifestations which cannot be reproduced by scientific or natural means.

This was the announcement of the magazine through which the prizes are offered despite the fact that Arthur Ford, minister of the First Spiritualist church, says he received and decoded the secret message of the late Harry Houdini to his wife from the world of spirits. Officials of the magazine, a scientific publication, pointed out that the message in code had been published in a book, "Harry Houdini, his life story," by Harry Kellogg, and that since its publication someone may have been successful in decoding the message.

Joseph Dunninger, head of the psychical research committee of the magazine, expressed the opinion that a third person, possibly the Houdini in the sickroom in which Houdini was confined, may have overheard the message both in code and decode when Houdini and his wife discussed it shortly before the magician's death. New German Device Allows Planes To Land On Ship Deck

Lubeck, Germany, Jan. 10.—A device enabling airplanes to leave or land on a regular passenger ship or merchantman has just been satisfactorily tried out by the North German Lloyd Steamship company, which plans to equip its new steamers "Europa" and "Bremen" with airplanes, so that passengers who are in a hurry and especially urgent mail matter can be sent on ahead from the ship when it is still two or three days out.

Delayed post could also be brought on board after the ship had got well away from the harbor. Heretofore, however, it has been impossible for airplanes to land or start from ordinary vessels. The new device, an invention of Engineer Hamann, was tried out on the Baltic steamer "Roland."

Over the stern a downward inclined platform has been built. From its lower edge a strip of sailcloth, 160 feet long and 36 feet wide, reinforced on the underside with wires and ropes, and ending in a wooden beam weighted with iron, is dragged at full speed. Starting from the top of the inclined platform, the airplane glides downward to the canvas and thence into the water. In order to come back on board it lands on the water near the end of the canvas, taxis along on to it, and is then pulled on board with hawsers.

The canvas can be rolled up and stored under the wooden platform. The trials of the new device were successful, although certain changes suggested themselves.

ARMY SLIPPINGFaction Opposing Leader
Scores Victory In Conference

Sunbury-On-Thames, Eng., Jan. 10.—The faction in the Salvation Army opposing the continued leadership of General Bramwell Booth won a sweeping victory in the high council meeting today.

The high council unanimously adopted a resolution to send a deputation to see the general and suggest that he retire. The fact that the resolution received unanimous consent caused a widespread sensation as it had previously been thought that the British members of the high council would contest the efforts to remove the general in order to prevent the possibility of endorsement by the American branch of the Army.

General Booth is sick in bed at his home.

When the high council resumed its deliberations in secret session at 10:30 o'clock this morning conflicting reports were current.

One report was that General Booth had "stolen a march upon his opponents," by announcing the appointment of a commission to take over his duties until his health is sufficiently restored to enable him to resume his post.

This was immediately followed by a report that the element opposing General Booth was gaining the upper hand.

A news agency reported that the high council had decided to send a deputation to the general to suggest his retirement, and this was subsequently confirmed from an official source.

The first question up for discussion when the councillors met was the advisability of sending a deputation to see General Booth.

If General Booth refuses to retire voluntarily the contest between the rival factions in the Army will be brought to a definite test of strength in the high council meeting.

BRAIN SURGERYBelieve Operation Will

Tendencies

Cleveland, Jan. 10.—Arthur Emerson, 15, will survive a brain operation performed to correct his criminal tendencies, the surgeon, Dr. S. B. Cowen, said today. Dr. Cowen believes Arthur will get well and outlive his reputation as a "bad boy."

An abscess was removed from the youth's brain a week ago. He is under sentence to a Federal Army Training school for stealing letters from the postoffice at New Philadelphia, O., his home city. Today the boy sat up in his cot at City hospital for the first time and talked brightly to nurses.

Federal authorities have indicated that they will allow him to return home, on probation. Paralysis of the right side, which marked the boy's condition, has disappeared, Dr. Cowen said.

New York.—The cost of government is known. Taxes collected by federal state and local agencies in the last fiscal year amounted to $9,170,000,000. The National Industrial conference board finds this was nearly 12 per cent of the national income.

RADIO
NEWS AND PROGRAMSJack And Gene, Happy Harmony Boys,
Are Heard Regularly At Station WLW

Jack and Gene are the popular young vocalists heard from radio station WLW, in Cincinnati in several programs during the day. The popular duo radiates programs at noon, in the afternoon, during the dinner hour and at 11:30 every night.

Their program is said by Salem listeners to be one of the most popular vocal entertainments offered over the air from WLW.

RADIO NOTES
Louis Gracme has been engaged as guest conductor of the WGY orchestra during January.

A special concert by a chorus of 100 is to be given Thursday evening from WPG, Atlantic City.

G. P. Brunter, pianist, is to give a program of all-McDowell music from WHAS, Louisville, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 23, the anniversary of the death of McDowell.

Reception of WENR, Chicago, by George Steeple in Transcona, Manitoba, Canada, on a small crystal set is reported in a letter to the station. An after-midnight program was heard.

WIOD, Miami Beach, Fla., described as "America's most southern-most station," will be part of the NBC system each Monday evening. WLS, Chicago, also is taking several of the chain features.

A card received by WOR from the management and staff of the Tokyo Central Broadcasting station, read: "The season's greetings with all kind thoughts and best wishes for the new year."

MEXICO RECEPTION
Because of the new wavelength allocation, radio listeners near the geographical center of the United States are cut off from broadcasters in Mexico, as far as regular, reliable reception is concerned.

Powerful stations in the United States have been distributed so generally over the dials that they interfere on every point where weak Mexican signals were detected formerly. Radio fans in Kansas City say the only way to pick up these weak signals from the south is to sit up until many American announcers have said "good-night."

Canadian stations, however, are heard regularly by American listeners, and the newly organized Canadian network is proving popular for radiolists in the states.

RADIO
TUNNEL DEDICATION
A coast to coast radio hook-up governed by the progress of a crack transcontinental train will form part of the program dedicating the new $14,000,000 railroad tunnel through the Cascade mountains east of Seattle next Saturday.

The broadcasting center of the network of 37 stations in the National Broadcasting company chain will be shifted back and forth across the country between five points, all synchronized with the running schedule of the Oriental Limited on the Great Northern railroad.

Madame Schumann-Heink, singing in San Francisco, an orchestra in New York and speeches by prominent persons in Washington, New York and at the tunnel portals will be broadcast. When the limited comes to a stop at the eastern portal, if the tunnel the broadcasting center will be shifted to that point to pick up a speech by Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern. Before the train has cleared the eight-mile tunnel the hook-up will have been shifted twice across the continent.

HOCKEY GAME AT KYW
Detailed accounts of the ice-hockey game between the Chicago Blackhawks and the Detroit Cougars, Saturday, will be broadcast direct from the Coliseum, Chicago, through station KYW of that city, beginning at 10:30 p. m.

Officials In Jail
On Fraud Charges

Baku, Russia, Jan. 10.—Fourteen officials of "Azneft," the second largest state oil trust, and former landowners in the Caspian sea district are in jail awaiting trial for buying and selling oil lands which according to the nationalization of property decree belonged to the government.

"Azneft," it is charged paid seven private individuals a total of $150,000 for land on which it expected to drill for oil. The trust apparently never heard that all private property had been confiscated soon after the establishment of the Soviet regime 11 years ago. The officials pleaded ignorance of the law. The prosecutor said that officials dumb enough to be sentenced to long terms.

The case, though more brazen than most, is typical. Thousands of persons, especially peasants, buy and sell land every year. Peasants, not realizing that life use of a farm is different from owning it, blandly sell or lease their property as before the revolution. And until a few months ago the statutes prescribed no punishment for selling land. Now the penalty is a minimum of three years imprisonment with confiscation of the property which was sold and the money which the seller received.

Dempsey's Attitude Is Puzzle To Moguls Of Sports Realm

Return To Ring Is Big Question; Ex-Champ Probably Undecided

BY DAVID J. WALSH

New York, Jan. 10.—Well into the afternoon hours of this day, Jack Dempsey is scheduled to issue his famous "I will" or "I won't" statement concerning the matter of his return to boxing. In brief, he has promised to give his answer to the question that has beset and confounded all boxing since Rickard's untimely death and the strange thing about this is that, unless I have been misinformed, Dempsey didn't know the answer himself last night.

In any case, he seemed unable to make a decision in talking the matter over with the man who is to issue his statement for him. The natural query is, why issue a statement at all unless he knows what he is talking about? When in doubt, say nothing, is a good rule for all men who find themselves in a tight spot and it is admitted that Dempsey's position is not without some slight discomfort.

But he seems obsessed with the idea that he must opt at this time and so he may say "yes" and he may say "no" and, for all anyone knows, he may succeed in saying neither, which would be passing smart under the circumstances.

It appears to be an established fact in quite a few minds that Dempsey's come back ended the morning Rickard died but, as to that, there are a dozen different guesses covering the general situation. Mine happens to be that, if Dempsey announces a permanent retirement today, he will be making a real mistake. There is an old chestnut having to do with the experience of crossing a bridge only when you come to it and I should say that it covers this case like a mortgage.

No Announcement
Announcement of his intention to fight for the heavyweight title, on the other hand, would come most appropriately at this time, as it would have the effect of stabilizing an industry which has become somewhat skittish under the disconcerting blow of Rickard's passing. Coming on top of this event, an adverse statement by Dempsey now would be a crowning disaster. He is the lone remaining "conqueror" with Rickard dead and Tunney retired. If he bows himself out permanently today, it will be emotionalism speaking, not judgment.

I doubt very much if he really knows whether the Garden corporation is willing to stand behind Rickard's offer to him. It is to be doubted if he has given a well-considered thought to the investments he has made at Miami Beach and others he still may make there. It is understood that, in addition to the dog track and other ventures he started with Rickard there, he is of a mind to carry through a deal for the purchase of a hotel at the winter resort.

May Be Aid
Perhaps he thinks he will be too occupied with these various enterprises, including his aid in the proposition of the Sharkey-Stribling fight next month, to take up the business of fighting. All that can be said about this is that the success of his other ventures and that, obviously, he will do the Sharkey-Stribling fight very little good by declaring himself out of the heavyweight stakes.

However, we may be anticipating beyond all reason. It is understood that close friends counseled Dempsey along these lines last night and it may be that, by this afternoon, he will have arrived at a less hurried and more logical view of the situation.

"Pass me a Lucky-I pass up the sweets."

Johnny Farrell

Johnny Farrell,
National Open Golf
Champion, 1928

WHEN fattening sweets tempt and you dread extra weight, light a Lucky instead. No discomfort, no trouble—just a common sense method of retaining a slender figure

The finest tobaccos are skillfully blended to make Lucky Strike. Then, "It's Toasted." This secret process brings out every essence in the tobaccos and produces a flavor which makes Lucky Strike a delightful alternative when you crave fattening sweets—there is no interference with a natural appetite for healthful foods. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

At the same time toasting removes impurities. That's why 20,679 physicians are on record that Lucky Strike is less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why prominent athletes have testified that Luckies steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition. No wonder that this was discovered long ago by many men, who pride themselves on keeping trim and fit, who love the "pep" that comes with health and vigor.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

Sharkey Fumes At Thought Of Having Guarantee Sliced

Tex Rickard's Word Was Good As Any Contract Ever Written

BY SID MERCER

New York, Jan. 10.—Uncertainty over the incubating heavyweight match between Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling at Miami Beach on Feb. 27 was heightened today by Sharkey's refusal to accept a cut in the $100,000 guarantee offered by Tex Rickard a few weeks before the promoter's death.

Sharkey came down from Boston yesterday to attend the funeral. Neither John Y. Buckley, his manager, nor his legal representative accompanied him. He went into a conference with William F. Carey, vice-president of the Madison Square Garden corporation, and Colonel John S. Hammond, general manager of the garden.

Emerges in Temper
Sharkey emerged from the conference in a temper. To friends he confided that he had been asked to accept a cut in the guarantee offered by Rickard.

Sharkey indicated that he thought this question should not have been put to him with Rickard's body lying downstairs, and that he told the garden moguls he would send his attorney to talk to them.

Rickard came to some sort of an agreement with Sharkey before he left for Miami on December 26. He announced in Florida that Sharkey had accepted terms. It was a commonly accepted story that the Boston heavyweight had been guaranteed $100,000.

There now seems to be a doubt as to whether Rickard has put his offer in contract form before he died. Boxers and managers were accustomed to accepting Rickard's word as his bond.

If no contracts exist or only one man is signed, the match is not likely to be completed now. It is only natural that the garden corporation, if it assumes complete responsibility, would reduce the heavy guarantees, now that Rickard's magic touch will be missing.

Sharkey says he isn't anxious to fight Stribling on southern soil, and won't do it unless the price he and Rickard agreed on is paid.

"HONEYMOON FLATS"

An intimate, sophisticated revelation of newly-married life is contained in Universal's clever comedy, "Honey-moon Flats," which began its two-day run yesterday at the Royal Theater with George Lewis and Dorothy Gulliver co-starring.

The story is well-directed, smooth and progresses evenly under increasing suspense to the very last scene. It is all about the young Clavens, the girl a daughter of wealthy parents and the boy a struggling young college graduate who insists that he support his wife on his own salary despite his mother-in-law's patronizing attitude.

It also concerns a friend who is married, both he and his wife having their private love affairs. These are worked into the story neatly. The picture is revealing and interesting, especially to all people who still consider marriage a romance and even to those who don't but did at least during the first year.

"Honey-moon Flats" permits them to peek behind the boudoir curtains into the life of a young couple, who are more or less baffled and bewildered by their new status. Their quarrels are humorous and the "in-laws" butting in an every-day add much to the hilarity of this intensely human comedy of affairs.

"THE HAUNTED HOUSE"

Capturing the climatic, so to speak, out-herding Herod, and in a nutshell, offering the ultimate in thrills, comes the First National picture now at the Grand Theater entitled "The Haunted House."

Green Davis' stage play of the same name was the basis of the story but the scenario has departed from the original premise and with certain ramifications impossible to stage limits has provided enough happenings in the old spot dwelling to satisfy a whole regiment of mystery lovers.

Admirable work is done by the cast under the capable direction of Benjamin Christensen. Chester Conklin, long and favorably known as a laugh master, provided an amazing lot of fun in his role of the henpecked husband forced by his shrewish wife to enter the haunted house in search of a hidden fortune. Thelma Todd, blondly beautiful, is the heroine; Montagu Love is a mad doctor; Larry Kent, Eve Southern, Flora Finch, Barbara Bedford, William V. Moon, Johnnie Condon and others make up a powerful cast.

The settings are the best of their kind, the camera and light effects are the work of masters. With all the picture is sheer entertainment and the audiences at the Grand Theater testified to their approval in no uncertain terms at the opening presentation of "The Haunted House."

Illinois May Pass Law This Year To Prevent Vivisection

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Enactment of a measure to make unlawful the vivisection of live animals for experimental purposes in this state is to be asked at the next session of the Illinois legislature by Senator Thomas J. Courtney, of Chicago.

In making this announcement, Senator Courtney declared that, in his opinion, "nothing of value can be learned by mutilating any animal" and that he considers vivisection a "blot upon civilization and human progress."

The fight against the practice is being led by the Illinois Anti-Vivisection society, an organization of prominent Chicago and Illinois society and club women, headed by Mrs. Frances Duesenberry, president, and Mrs. H. Matus, of Hinsdale. In presenting this bill to the legislature, Senator Courtney will have the strong support of this group, as well as prominent Americans in all parts of the country, members of the society. Included are Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin and O. O. McIntyre, famous New York columnist.

THE HOME KITCHEN

—By Jeannette Young Norton

A Cracker and Cheese "Smoker"

When men give "smokers" at home it is often nice to serve some sort of refreshments to which the wives are asked to join. Afterwards it is understood that the males are to be left to their smokes, cards perhaps, and things men like to decide for the nation over their pipes. A cracker and cheese feast with coffee offers many possibilities.

The table for the part buffet service should be covered with unbleached linen. Plates and forks with paper napkins should be stacked at four sides to aid in quick service. A coffee urn and service at the end of the table on an ample tray. In the center of the table, if a jar with wax tulpis is sufficient decoration, candles are not used in this sort of a table.

There should be plates of several kinds of crackers, a wide selection will be found in a first class shop. An Eddam cheese should be on table with a piece cut out of the center so that a cheese spoon may be used. A pineapple cheese may be fixed in the same way. Two or three plates of mixed cheeses may be on the table, on them arrange Swiss cheese in blocks, Norwegian brown cheese in slices, Swedish curaway cheese in blocks, Italian solid Parmesan cheese cut in blocks. English sharp cheese in wedge-shaped pieces and any other sort available. A plate of Holland sticks and cheese crackers of different kinds may be added.

Cheese sandwiches with olives and stuffed celery are general favorites. As these are usually made of the soft cheese they are not offered on the table with the other cheeses. If Limburger is added place it in a covered serving dish. Keep covered only when serving.

Depending upon service and other conditions the party may move on with all cold service, or it may start off with one warm dish. This warm dish may be a cheese soufflé, Walden Rarebit, Golden Buck, English

Monkey, Toasted Cheese, or scalloped cheese in ramekins. Whatever is decided upon it must be served on hot dishes and all must be served at one time. Also portions should not be large as the guests are always anxious to sample the other, and maybe less familiar cheeses, sandwiches and so on.

When cheese is to be toasted it should be cut in eighth-inch slices and placed on a greased gridiron. It is difficult to do this over gas, but it can be done quickly and carefully. As a large soufflé is very frail and apt to fall it is safer to make two or three smaller ones, cooked in the oven at the same time, so all may be served together.

Scalloped Cheese
For twelve ramekins take two cups of medium fine crumbs, add to them a cupful and a half of grated American sharp cheese a half teaspoonful of salt, a heaping saltspoonful of paprika, a tablespoonful of onion juice, a half tablespoonful of finely minced celery leaves, a beaten egg, a tablespoonful of soft butter, a teaspoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, and a teaspoonful of cream added to each ramekin. Butter the ramekins and fill lightly with the mixture and bake a delicate brown, in a medium oven, around ten minutes. Serve hot.

Swedish Cheese Custard
Beat up two fresh eggs and add to a pint of rich milk, with a cupful of grated cheese and a level saltspoonful each of salt and paprika. Pour into a small oiled mould and place in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until the custard sets. Chill and serve with a lettuce salad.

Almond Cream Salad
Mash a cream cheese with enough sweet heavy cream to soften it, mix with it a half cupful of blanched almonds chopped fine, salt and a tiny bit of sugar. Add a little whipped cream, chill, and serve with jelly and dainty wafers.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Jan. 10.—Trousers continue to be an important item of the winter sports costume, judging from the ones to be seen at St. Moritz and other smart wintering resorts.

They are of the usual long variety that tie closely about the ankle so that the rolled-down socks will fit over them. For skating, the dress-makers have found nothing more satisfactory and they do for every other sport as well.

The addition of a silk skirt to the skiing costume is an interesting note this winter. The designers point out that in order to reach an altitude high enough to ski, it is necessary to climb for an hour or two, generally beneath a hot sun and during this time one becomes extremely overheated if the usual number of woolen jerseys and tricot are worn. They are only needed when the actual skiing is begun so it is much more preferable to wear the silk skirt and carry the rest over one's arm.

Simple lines and dark colors are being used for the skiing suits in general, with a preference for grey, black and deep green.

For mountain-climbing, there are suits with divided skirts so well cut they look like a simple skirt with front and back pleat. Divided skirts are also being used for skating costumes and are certainly more graceful and feminine.

Mountaineering coats are flared to avoid the fatiguing pull which a straight coat inevitably has.

Three-piece sports suits often have hand-knit sweaters in brilliant designs or striped simply in a distinctive rhythm.

American Exports Far More Than Imports In Year Of '28

Invisible Trade Balance Exists; Commerce Is Growing

New York, Jan. 10.—The United States had a balance of about $500,000,000 in 1928, according to the complete and accurate tally sheet made by O. E. Davis, secretary of the foreign trade council.

This leaves a balance of about $500,000,000 due to America, after setting up for the goods bought from foreign customers, for a part of which we may have to take long term premises to pay, but a good share of which is tossed around the European hotels and pleasure resorts by the care-free and liberal-spending American tourists and pleasure seekers. This is generally referred to as the makings of the invisible trade balance, in which class also appears the thousands of dollars sent over by our industrious foreign residents to their relatives on the other side.

"The high proportion of manufactured goods among American exports, over 70 per cent of the total in 1928, adds a stabilizing factor to our trade, as these are the products that respond to American salesmanship abroad and are carrying us forward each year to new levels of progress," said Davis, in his summary. "This is corroborated in large measure by the American makers of automobiles, sewing machines, farming implements, steel ingots and copper in various forms."

"The recovery of China as a market for American goods was one of the features of the year. The quieting down of revolutionary bands and the cessation of hostilities permitted much greater cultivation of the arts of peace and commerce with the result that the imports from the United States increased 50 per cent over the preceding year. They are now estimated to reach $130,000,000 for the entire year 1929 against an average 3-year exportation to China of about $115,000,000."

It has long been the aim and purpose of American business heads to extend and expand our trade with the South American republics.

"Export trade with South America increased 7 1/2 per cent last year," said Davis. "With Argentina leading as a purchaser of American goods, with an estimated total of $100,000,000, almost 10 per cent better than the previous year. There was also a normal gain of about 7 per cent in American exports through Central America."

Last year we sold Canada $490,000,000 worth of goods, a record which kept that country in the front line as our best foreign customer. The Canadians are good spenders for the things they need, and recognize the fine quality of American goods. Every Canadian man, woman and child spent $200 last year with which to buy goods of Uncle Sam, the largest per capita business done between any two large nations in the world.

The European markets took $2,300,000,000 worth of our goods, or 48 per cent of the total. Before the war we sold 60 per cent of our total exportation to Europe and the decline in evidence a plenty of the reduced buying power of the people in the countries ravaged by the war. Last year we sold Russia $20,000,000 worth of raw and manufactured materials, foodstuffs, etc., of twice as much as in the last year before the great war.

The staples on our foreign sales counters are grain and cotton, manufactured goods and machinery, to say nothing of yellow gold, which we are always ready to send over the ocean if conditions warrant.

BEWARE THE COUGHS THAT FOLLOW FLU!

They May Weaken Your System and Lead to Serious Trouble

You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion may help you avoid flu, but not sold as a flu remedy. If you have fever, or think you may have the flu, see your doctor immediately. (adv.)

ELECTRIC PLANT TO GIVE ADDED CHICAGO POWER

First Unit of Enormous Plant Has Been Constructed

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Construction of the first unit of a huge new generating plant which will be located on the shores of Lake Michigan, immediately southeast of the Illinois-Indiana state line has been started, and the first unit, of 208,000 kilowatt capacity, is expected to be in operation in the fall of 1929. The present intention is to add from time to time four additional large units to an ultimate minimum capacity of 1,600,000 kilowatts.

The purpose of constructing the station is to assure a supply of energy at the lowest possible cost. The company will own no transmission system beyond its own property and no sub-stations except those required for its own use.

To Sell Power It will sell its entire capacity to the Commonwealth Edison company of Chicago, Public Service company of Northern Illinois, Northern Indiana Public Service company and Interstate Public Service company at its property line. The size and character of the four contracting utility companies, together with the nature of the power contracts entered into by them, assure the State Line Generating company a maximum load and a certain source of income.

The cost of the station and initial installation of generating equipment is estimated at $28,500,000. The owning companies have obligated themselves, in the respective proportions in which they now own the capital stock of the company, to furnish all necessary funds in excess of the proceeds from the sale of not to exceed $21,000,000 principal amount of notes or bonds to complete the station and initial installation.

50-Year Contracts Fifty-year contracts have been entered into for the furnishing of electrical energy by the State Line Generating company to the four utility companies. These contracts together cover the station's entire output from its initial capacity now being installed as well as that from addition units later to be installed when mutually agreed to by the company and the contracting companies. Under the power contracts gross earnings of the company after completion of the 208,000 kilowatt capacity of the station now being installed are estimated at $7,535,893 while net earnings before depreciation and interest in the company's maximum funded debt of $21,000,000 principal amount then to be outstanding are estimated at $3,129,500.

Newark, Jan. 10.—Miss Mary Hofacher, 25, is suffering from shock and bruises at her home here today as a result of an encounter with a man, who, she says, sought to force her into an auto.

Miss Hofacher, according to her report to police, escaped when she struck the man several blows in the face. The alleged kidnaper was assisted to the auto by two companions and is believed to have sustained severe bruises from the girl's blow.

Careless as to how many feet a running horse had off the ground at a single moment was one of the causes leading to the invention of the movies.

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

"After suffering several years, six bottles of S.S.S. completely relieved me of rheumatism. It also cleared up a skin eruption and gave me a good appetite. I think S.S.S. is a wonderful medicine."—R. L. Busie, Southern Railway, Knoxville, Tenn.

"I was very nervous, had hardly any appetite, and suffered with rheumatism. I tried many medicines, but S.S.S. is the one that did me the most good. I am now well, and feel like a new man."—William Osborne, 2406 Sloan Street, Flint, Michigan.

S.S.S. is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.
